The Herse Market. There is considerable activity in certain depariments of the horse trade, with scarcely anything doing in others Government and the railroad and stage men nearly monopolize the business. Purchasers of army horses have had no orders to stop buying, in the face of the crumbling rebel armies. They probably look to cavalry to give the finishing strokes, beauting the country for guerrillas and fleeing bands of rebels. Government has advanced the prices of army horses, paying $172 for cavalry and $180 for artillery, but throw out many such as they formerly accepted. All horses are higher than they were a month ago, with the exception of roadsters and trotters, which are not selling, though there is a good supply Are not selling, though there is a good supply affering. A pair of stylish black horses 15% hands high, speedy, are held at $2,500, with $2,600 offered; another pair, still higher priced, are valued at $4,000, and from these prices they run down to $800 and $1,000 each for fast travellers. The next class, or good coach horses, well matched, that will travel a mile in four or five mintnes, about 14 hands high, are scarce and wanted. They would command from $600 to $800 and even $1,000 per span. Two years ago many such horses were turned over to Government by parties who wanted to get rid of them. Oakley & Smith furnish most of the railroad and stage horses, or rather mares, and are quite busy, turning over large numbers of railroad horses at $130 and $140, and stage horses at $140 and $160 each. There ie some call for truck horses of large size at 250 and $300 each. Farmers have about Inished their purchases for the spring, generally taking low-priced horses, frequently those worn down by hard usage on the city railroads, paying $40 and $75 each for them. Some good spans have been sold to farmers at $300 and $400 per pair. The late decline in gold brings in many Canadian horses, generally of small size; but tough and good workers. They are held at $225 and $350 per span. The general stagnation of business attendant upon a Incluating gold market, and the excitement regarding military operations, is felt among borse-dealers, and with stables well filled they complain that trade is dull in comparison with what it should be at this season .- New York

GUANO IN ANTIGUA .- A most singular discovery has been made by two Yahkees, which bids fair to accumulate the wealth of Antigua by giving it a new export, yielding a rich revonue. It consists of immense deposits of ani-mal guano in the "Batt's Hole," in the south district of the Island, a dismal cavern of interminable extent. Legends there were enough about the cave having been the resort of fugitives from justice, and perhaps on that account no one felt disposed to penetrate the region of darkness and the supposed abode of crime. The gentlemen above named, however, 3 few days ago, undertook to unveil the mystery hanging over the place, and the result is that an indefinite number of tons of rich animal excrement and decomposed dead bodies of myraiads of vampire bats, which for ages, if these islands have existed for ages, have inlested the place.

The guano has been tested, and said to con-kin at least 35 per cent of phosphate of lime, while the admixture of a quantity of building lime developed a very large proportion of ammonia, constituting it as valuable a fertilizer as we have any knowledge of. The fortunate discoverers have already waited on his Excellency the Governor, the cave being situated on land belonging to the Crown, and his Excellency at once accorded the necessary permission to remove the deposit, the parties agreeing to pay a certain sum per ton, by way of Royalty, on the yield. The name given to the newly discovered manure is Ammoniated Phospho Guano.—Bermuda Paper. AN EXCITED LEGISLATURE.-The correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Columbus, Ohio, April 7, says: "An interesting scene occurred in both Houses this morning, upon the receipt of the intelligence that reat and favorite hero of Ohio, Phil Sher. iden, had ridden down and routed Lee's retreating hosts, capturing generals, privates, and guns without number, and that he confidently expected to compel Lee to surrender the reet of his fugitive soldiers. The governor himself brought up the despatch, and then quietly enjoyed what followed. It was read in the Senate by Mr. Devin, and in the House by Mr. Waters, business being suspended (rather reluctantly, I imagine) for that purpose. Then followed such cheering and shouting, and waving of hats, as threatened the very roof of the Capitol. Order was restored, and the two Houses struggled on with a show of business for a few moments, and then took a recess in atter disregard of all rules and decorum. 'They broke loose,' as boys say in school days, shouting like mad as they rushed out for High cific coast, to engage in pearl diving opera-Mons. From five to ten workmen go to the bottom in a submarine boat; and move about at will, selecting the best locations and the richest deposits. They rise to the surface also at will, and bring with them the results of their labors. The vessel, which forms part of the expedition, as a tender to the explorer, reserves the shells upon its deck, where they are opened. The company propose to operate upon the Pacific coast, and the adjacent islands. These pearl-oysters abound in all the waters from the Gulf of California to the equator, and have been fished for more than three hundred years by the natives, with success. The most costly pearls in the world-those of the Countess de Regla, of the Marquesa de Guadalupe, and of Madame Velasco, remarkable for their great size and value are from the Gulf of California. The great pearl presented to General Victoria, while he was president of Mexico, was from the same locality.

Mr. John H. Addison, a London broker, who has recently been praised by the Spiritualist journals in England as "one of the strongest mediums who has yet appeared," has amused himself, first by performing before select circles of friends all the tricks of the Davenport Brothers, and secondly by writing to the London Star to say that he is no "medium" at all, but did it for fun. The Spiritual Times and the Spiritual Magazine, which took up Mr. Addison as a remarkable being, now drop him in great disgust.

A method of coating wood with a varnish hard as stone has been recently introduced in Germany; the ingredients are forty parts of chalk, forty of rosin, four of linseed oil, to be melted together in an fron pot. One part of native oxide of copper, and one of sulphuric acid, are then to be added, after which the composition is ready for use. It is applied hot to the wood with a brush, in the same way as paint, and as before observed, becomes exseedingly hard on drying.

A number of empty bottles have been brown into the sea on the west coast of Africa, and have been picked up on the Irish coast One has been found after sixteen years, another after fourteen, and a third after ten years. One was thrown into the Caribbean Sea, and after five days was picked up 210 miles distant. A bottle was thrown in at Behring's Straits, and 200 days afterwards was found on the Honduras coast, having travelled 3,500 miles.

On the reading of the bill in the House of Representatives, last week, for the sale of the "Yacht Whisper," a stout looking member from Berkshire quickly rose, much elated, asking the clerk to be so kind as to read that again. The clerk complied in a clear voice. "Ah!" said the member from Berkshire with a sigh "I understood you to say a bill for hot "whis-key," and was about to move the passage of the bill without debate."—Mass. Plowman.

ATWOOD'S PATENT DRILLING MACHINE. PILE DRIVER,

HYBRAULIC SAND PUMP. Practical tests having fully demonstrated the superiority of this machine over all others for the purpose of sinking Oil Wells, the undersigned is now prepared to receive orders for the same. This machinery comprises everything requisite for the boring of oil wells excepting the STEAM ENGINE AND CAST IRON DRIVING PIPE, (but will be furnished, if desired, at a reasonable price,) and dispenses with the use of the derrick rope, bull wheel and other cumbrous and expensive fixtures now in use, and is so arranged, being constructed on wheels and portable, that it can be easily removed for the purpose of sinking wells in The detritus is removed from the well by our patent hydraulic process, and does eot require the remeval of the drill from the boring. This process not only removes all the detritus in from 5 to 10 minutes, but likewise effectually clears out and opens all the small oil veins that are so often en-tirely closed up by the old process of sand pumping. With this machine and a practical engineer, a well can be sunk from 400 to 600 feet within a period of from 15 to 30 days after the soil pipe has been Arrangements are being made for the construc-tion and delivery of these machines at New York, Norwich, Newburg, N.
